FOREWORD

Life has often been compared to mountain climbing. When climbing a mountain you start at the bottom and stay on the path, just as we start out in Lower School and work our way up. We encounter many obstacles along the way and at certain points are faced with forks in the road. Many we have already come to but even greater ones lie ahead and we must choose which paths to follow. Our education is equipping us for whatever paths we choose and giving us opportunities to explore different areas.

We all come from different places, are going different directions and have different interests, talents, and abilities but all our paths cross at Park Tudor. Because the various paths we take at school lead us to our classes and activities we have chosen paths as the theme for our 1981 Chronicle.

FACULTY

Teachers play an important part in our journey. They act as the guideposts along the way — pointing out opportunities, warning of dangers, and directing our interests.

Mr. Young, a native of Michigan, was appointed Headmaster of Park Tudor School in 1972. He came to us from the Greenhill School in Texas where he had served as Director of the Upper School and Assistant Headmaster. With his eleven years of experience in independent education he was well prepared for his position in a college preparatory school such as Park Tudor.

Mr. Young received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Northern Michigan University and has also attended Penn State and Northwestern University. He and his family are members of Trinity Episcopal Church and he enjoys reading, golf, skiing, and sailing.

Wm. George Young
HEADMASTER

Mr. Travis Ball, Jr.

Director of Admissions
Assistant to the Headmaster

This year Mr. Ball taught freshman English and advanced speech, a first semester course. He was also an advisor to The Apple Press. He serves on the advisory committee on non-public education for the Superintendent of Public Instruction. He received his B.A. degree from Carson-Newman College in Tennessee and his M.A. degree from Purdue University. During the summer of 1980, Mr. Ball spent time in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maine, Vermont, and Tennessee. His special interests include people reading, and letterpress printing. As a child he dreamed of being a farmer.

Miss Stuart was the sponsor for the Upper School cheerleaders this year. She is a member of the Junior League of Indianapolis, the Player's Club, and her church choir. She is also on the Board of Directors of the Park Tudor Alumni Association. She received her B.S. degree from Carroll College in Wisconsin and her M.S.W. degree from Indiana University. During the summer of 1980, she spent two weeks at the Clay Court Championships and made two TV commercials for Hook's Drugs. She enjoys music, piano, tennis, and acting.

Director of Upper School

Mr. Black taught two one-semester courses this year: statistics and computer science. He also served as photography advisor to the yearbook staff. He received his A.B. degree from Wabash College and his M.S. degree from Purdue University. He enjoys photography, tennis, golf, and bicycling.

Miss Deborah D. Stuart

Associate Director of Admissions

Mr. Joseph Dezelan

Dean of Boys

Mr. Dezelan taught several speech classes this year and coached the varsity football team. He is a member of St. Pius X Church and the Knights of Columbus. He received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Butler University. During the summer of 1980, he taught Driver Education at Park Tudor. He enjoys home wood-working, snow skiing and coaching football.

In addition to academic, personal, and college counseling, Mrs. Roberts taught one section of freshman English and coached the girls' golf team. She received her B.S. degree from Indiana University and has also attended Butler University. She is a representative to the NAIS Council for Women in Independent Schools and a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. During the summer of 1980 she participated in several golf tournaments including the Monticello Open, Elwood Glen Invitational, and Kalliedescope 1980. Her interests include golf, traveling, skiing, reading, music, and gourmet cooking.

Mrs. Judith Roberts

Dean of Girls

The first day of school disclosed five new teachers in Middle and Upper School: Mr. Ruenzel in the English department, Mr. Staubach and Miss Ulen in music and drama, Mrs. Thomas in Latin, and Mr. Kidd in seventh grade science.

This year Mrs. Rogers taught eighth grade U.S. History and sponsored the Apple Core, 7-8 Cheerleaders, and the Middle School Student Council. She is a member of the Junior League, Christamore Aid Society, and the Board of Directors for the Indianapolis Museum of Art. She received her A.B. degree in history from Hollins College in Virginia and has also attended Butler University. During the summer of 1980, she traveled to Ireland, England, and Scotland. She especially enjoys art history, reading, and raising teenagers. Her dreams were to be a rock singer and to write the "Great American Novel."

Several of our teachers have rather interesting histories. As a child, Mrs. Sharpe dreamed of having a train car full of green grapes and being able to eat them all herself. Mrs. Gilpin has been able to trace her geneology back to Sephardic Jews who converted to Catholicism in 1492. Her parents became Congregationalists in 1932 after moving from Texas to Wisconsin. She later married a Unitarian and an Episcopalian and feels that the richness of all these traditions enables her to understand, accept and enjoy life to its fullest.

There are 14 custodians at Park Tudor, under the supervision of Mr. Somoya, who perform the very important task of maintaining the school buildings and grounds. Their job involves "cleaning up" after nearly 700 Lower, Middle, and Upper School students and caring for 55 acres of land.

STAFF

The seventh and eighth graders proudly welcomed this trophy case, custom built by Mr. Somoya, to their hallway across from Mrs. Rogers office. Here, Sean Jones, Kevin Osburn, Jim Kivela, and Evan Gibbons display some newly won trophies.

A part of my life has been completed. Now it is time to move ahead to new challenges and expectations.

The past has been a fulfilling experience, both rewarding and frustrating. In this way I have grown mentally and physically when confronted with new challenges.

At the present I am developing my natural talents and discovering new talents. I take on new adventures and overcome the obstacles.

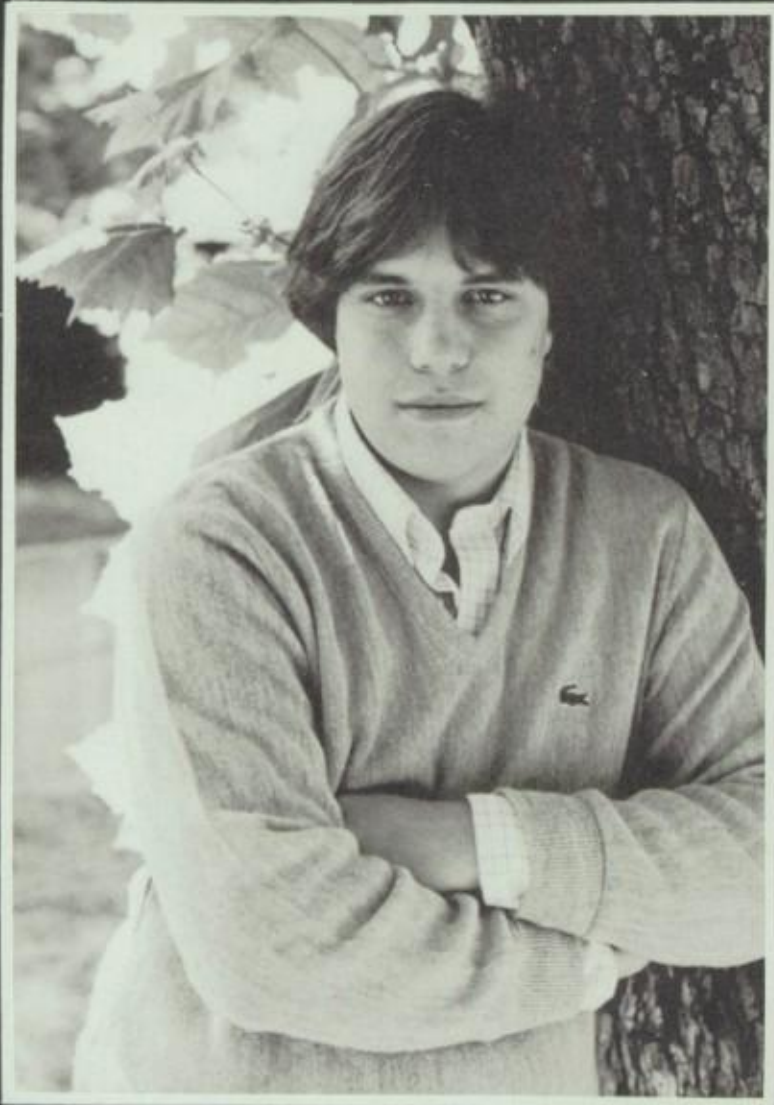

The future will represent my education, my ability to use my resources and will be what I choose it to be.

The challenges have been met, new challenges await me and I look forward with hopeful eyes as to my aspirations.

When you reach the top of the mountain, stay there for awhile, because it's all downhill from then on.

Melanie Nock

During the second semester Park Tudor was host to two English exchange students, Melanie Nock and Richard Humphreys. Melanie is from Oxford, England. She graduated from Headington, an all-girls school, and plans to attend Cambridge when she returns home. Richard is from Hertfordshire, England. He graduated from Stowe School and plans to attend Nottingham University in the fall. The two came over on the English Speaking Union program.

LOWER SCHOOL

With the carefree path of young childhood behind us we enter Park Tudor as kindergarteners, ready to travel the multitude of paths which beckon us during our Lower School years.

Mrs. Jean Magel
Director of Lower School

As Director of the Lower School Mrs. Magel is in charge of areas such as curriculum development, teacher workshops, and parent conferences. She received her A.B. degree from Goucher College in Maryland and has attended Butler and Indiana Universities. Before the merger of Park and Tudor Hall, Mrs. Magel taught at Park and is now completing her 22nd year of service. During the summer of 1980, she visited her daughter in Texas and had a visit from West Germany by another daughter and her family. Mrs. Magel's special interests include needlepoint, sailing, swimming, and reading.

Mrs. Holt has become an indispensable part of the Lower School by performing a wide range of duties. She describes herself as a "Jack-of-all-trades" and does whatever needs to be done. She received her B.A. degree from De Pauw University, in Indiana. During the summer of 1980, she spent time at her cottage on Lake Michigan. Mrs. Holt enjoys gardening, redecorating her home, reading, needlepoint, knitting, and her grandchildren. Her childhood dream was to be an opera singer.

Mrs. Jane Holt
Administrative Assistant

LOWER SCHOOL FACULTY

Mrs. Carroll came to Park School as librarian in 1960. At that time there was no Lower School Library. She built it up and it now has over 10,000 volumes plus paperbacks, audio visual materials, and other items of interest. She received her A.B. degree from Butler University and her B.S. degree in Library Science from the U. of Illinois. She is not only active in school but also in the community, having been an active member and choir member of Third Christian Church for nearly 50 years. During the summer of 1978, she spent 5 weeks in the Orient where she visited her older son, who lives in Tokyo. She enjoys music, writing, traveling, and grandchildren.

The 1980-81 Lower School Student Council is made up of class representatives from grades 1-6 and meets each Tuesday afternoon. Under the direction of faculty sponsor Mrs. Marianne Schafer, President Christy Krieg, Vice-President Woody Taft, Secretary Scott Durlacher, and Lee Gavalas, Treasurer, the Council is an important part of Lower School government. Besides funding the Lower School newspaper, the Student Council purchased a computer and provided special assemblies that included a magician, a rock band, and a play. The Lower School participated in the adoption of an American alligator at the Indianapolis Zoo, contributed to the Broad Ripple Duck Fund and the Indianapolis Humane Society. The Student Council planted daffodil bulbs on the Foster Hall hill, and sponsored a Freaky Friday where students were allowed to wear jeans, crazy hats and shirts. They also sponsored a Spring Vacation Variety Show. Monday morning assemblies are also under the direction of this hard working group of Lower School students who contribute to the success of the year.

Fifth grade boys, Brian Hicks, Robby Bennett, Steve Coukos, John Kittle and Scott Bodem enjoy a moment of friendship before the start of a busy day.

We learn to serve others. Stacia Klein, Natalie Carter (seated) and Tanya Kane make a daily milk delivery to the kindergarten classrooms. Sixth graders provide many services to the functioning of the Lower School: table heads in the dining room, flag raisers, mailmen, and errand runners.

Sixth graders gather around a newly purchased computer. Many hours are spent learning the language of the computer, writing programs, and working through already-written programs.

Panther Press: Path To Responsibility

Beginning in the fall of 1979, the Panther Press was published monthly by the sixth grade class. All staff positions, including Editor-in-Chief, rotate with each issue. Children from other grades are encouraged to contribute articles to the paper. All articles are submitted for approval and proofread before and after typesetting by a local printer.

The Lower School Student Council funds the Panther Press with money earned from the annual magazine subscription sale. Each month the editor-in-chief lays out the articles, composes headlines, and arranges illustrations.

The Panther Press keeps students, faculty, parents, and friends of the Lower School informed of activities and attitudes. It also develops a team spirit among sixth graders as well as providing a catalyst for improvement of writing skills. This year's issues featured monthly photographs. The entire Lower School eagerly looks forward to the delivery of each end-of-the-month issue.

SPORTS

In athletics we find ourselves striving for goals and hurdling obstacles while working together as a team.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

DEZELAN'S PANTHERS STRENGTHEN IHSAA SCHEDULE

Led by the unofficial team song of "LuLu," the 58th edition of the Park-Tudor Panthers notched yet another winning football season of five and three. Though not matching last year's record of 6-0, Park showed that it could win in a much stronger schedule.

Only two years ago, Red defeated its first public school team. Now these larger schools make up the majority of the football schedule — even to the extreme of state-ranked teams such as Wes-Del. An article in the Weekly indicated that in 1982, Park will be a charter member of the new Middle Indiana Football Conference, an organization that could elevate Park-Tudor to the state play-offs.

To meet the stronger schedule this year, the team was led by the offensive nucleus of Kevin Quigley, Co-Captain

Steve Pritchett, freshman letter-winner Mark Wright, and seniors Mike Williams, Don Heck, and Andy Edds. Offensive Lineman of the Year, Mike Henry, provided The Wall necessary to execute those "tricky plays."

Yet to have a good offense, one must have an excellent defense. Again, Henry, Heck, Edds, Pritchett, and Wright with David Stewart, Co-Captain Bryce Taylor, and David Jones showed the versatility that was needed.

In just eight short years Coach Joe Dezelan has constructed the most winning program since the days of Lou Reichel, when Park played and defeated the now huge teams of Shortridge and Manual. The next few years can only be more exciting as the Panthers meet teams such as Wes-Del, Brown County, North Decatur, and South Decatur.

VARSITY SOCCER

With only six returning seniors and one walk-on from Germany, Klaus Morlock, this year's soccer team was short on experience. To alleviate this problem, juniors Doug Stewart and Anthony McFarland took on some of the leadership responsibilities. Anthony also moved up from his defensive position to boost the team's scoring punch. The offensive leaders of the team were leading scorer, Klaus Morlock, Anthony McFarland, Charlton Stokes, and Jack Hall, team captain and leader in assists. Coupled with this offense was a powerful defense which kept many teams off the scoreboards for the entire game. Senior Dave Eckard worked hard with Brad Hauter in perfecting Brad's goalie skills to enable the team to achieve such a high rate of shut-outs.

The highlight of the year was when this year's team again captured the title of MISC Tournament Champions by defeating long time rival Heritage Christian with a score of 3-0. Captain Jack Hall and Coach Larry Treadwell, although not fantastically pleased with a record of 11-9, were quite happy with the team's performance in keeping the title. Co-captains of 1981-82, Anthony McFarland and Doug Stewart, are looking forward to next year and trying to win another tournament trophy.

Although the 1980 Reserve Soccer team had a record of only 2 wins and 8 losses the season wasn't all that bad. They were injury plagued and had to use four different goalies during the season. Wins were over I.C.S. and Secina with close losses to Lawrence North and Culver Military Academy.

During these they were first over Northview, Fulton, Carmel-Clay, and tied Hamilton Southeastern for first place. Led by Coach Jack Brake, they also managed to place 9th out of 17 teams at the Bloomington Invitational, 7th out of 11 teams at the Tipton Invitational, and are looking forward to another good season next fall.

The 1980 Cross Country Team, led by underclassmen, competed in many tournaments against the state's top runners. Hampered by the fact that they had only six members, the harriers still finished the season respectably.

Park Tudor's outstanding sprinter, Scott Brown, was the only senior, and he proved himself as an all-around runner. He had several good races, and showed marked improvement throughout the year. The junior class also had only one runner, Steve Norton. The sophomore class also was represented by a single harrier, Steve Pockrass. He finished the season with some strong times, and received this year's Coaches' Award. The freshmen provided the key ingredients to this year's squad. Richard Brake and Eric Eschenfelder led the team, coming in third and seventh, respectively, in the Freshmen County Meet. In addition to this, Brake came in eighteenth in the Sectionals while Eschenfelder came in third in the Pike Invitational. The Panthers' third freshman was Jeff Harris, one of the squad's most consistent runners. He too had some fine races and times.

The Panthers had one female runner, junior, Catherine Antley. She ran to victory in some dual meets, and established herself as a strong runner in the girls' regionals.

GIRLS' GOLF

With seniors Sylvia Shortridge and Joan Gehrt, junior Ann Kelley, sophomores Amy Osborn and Cathy Gray, and freshman Sarah Kight, the 1980-81 Girls' Golf Team was very successful. The girls participated in two tournaments, the Marion County Girls' Golf Tournament and the 1980 Girls' IHSAA Golf Sectionals. In the Marion County Tournament the team placed 8th out of 11, beating Pike, Brebeuf, and Lawrence North. In the Sectionals, which terminated the season, the team placed 9th out of 13, defeating Pike, Howe, Broad Ripple, and Brebeuf. During the season they lost to Southport but won a sound victory over Brebeuf. This was the first year in P-T history that the girls played in county or state tournaments.

The 1980 Varsity Field Hockey season for girls was competitive and enthusiastic. In the Varsity-Alumni game held in the early fall during Homecoming, the Alumni team proved to be victorious with a final score of 3-2. Reds and Whites battled it out in several intramural games and as in the past, the Red team was victorious. The Varsity team was headed by four seniors: Lynn Shank, Linda LaFollette, Jenifer James, and Susie Sturman. Underclassmen Beth Berkeley, Beth Brueckmann, Cathy Ferree, Holly Hapak, as well as Martha Jones, Lisa Krieg, Cathy Lowe, Tammie Spencer, and Mary Stimming completed the team. Much of the season's success must be attributed to Coach Jane Trotter's devoted efforts.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1980-1981 Basketball season was a rebuilding one for the Panthers after the loss of three starting seniors in 1980. The team ended the season with a 5 win-13 loss record which does not tell the whole story. The Panthers lost many close games throughout the season and couldn't seem to break the habit. They were also hurt by the loss of players due to illness and injuries through the season.

The highlight of the season was the Panthers' victory over the Indiana School for the Deaf in the first round of Sectional play. It was the first Sectional victory in Park Tudor history.

Senior Darrell Richardson was the leader on the court and will be a great loss to the Panthers in '82. Juniors Anthony McFarland, Andy Nemecek, and Steve Pritchett along with freshmen Jeff Harris and Mark Wright will be the hone of the Panthers in '82.

The warming up for the Girls' Basketball season started in early fall when Miss Schreiber had the girls out running and exercising, either in the morning or after school. In addition to the other team members there were two late comers, Lisa Linzinmeir, and Annmarie Gavalas.

Although they were disappointed with their season of 4 wins and 7 losses, the girls enjoyed working together, and on looking back at the scores, the majority of games they lost were very close. Beating Pike by one point was not only exciting but also very gratifying.

VARSITY WRESTLING

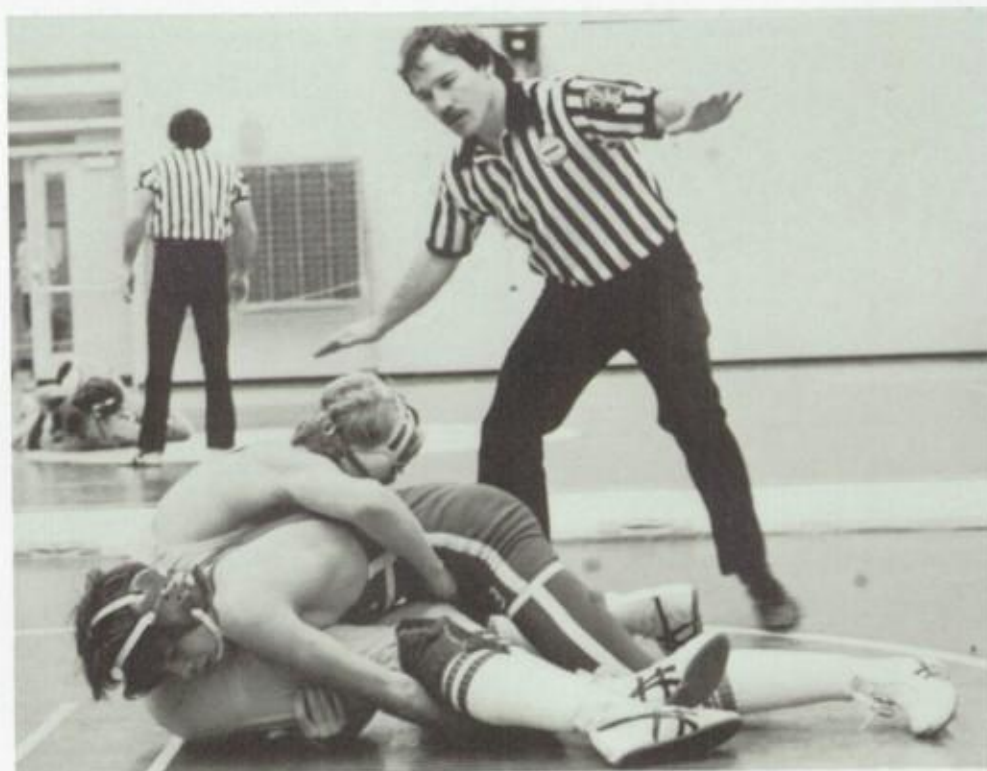

Two dual-meet victories over Deaf School and some outstanding individual performances highlighted the 1980-81 Wrestling season, which was a year of building for Coach Browning's young and inexperienced squad.

Senior Captain Bryce Taylor led the matmen until a late-season injury knocked him out of action. The grapplers' only champion at the P-T tournament by pulling out a come-from-behind victory, Bryce completed the dual-meet season undefeated. He capped his senior year in fine fashion, being voted by his peers as the Panthers' Most Valuable Wrestler.

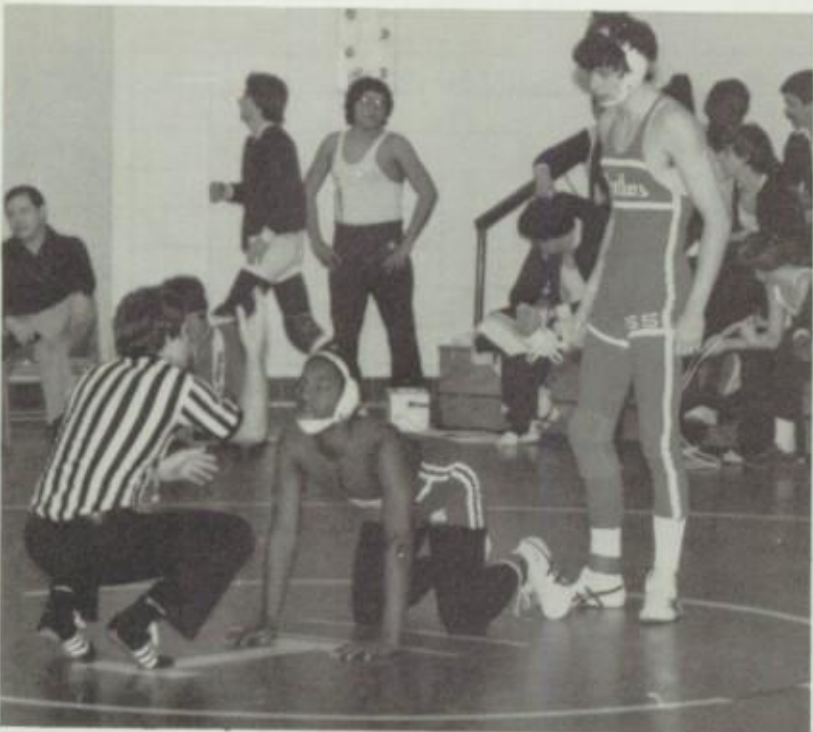

Other wrestlers cited for their season's endeavors were Steve Pockrass for leading the squad in takedowns, and Evrard Borgerhoff who amassed the greatest number of pins and was the High Point Scorer. Both had memorable moments at the Blind School Tournament. Pockrass, wrestling at 92 lbs., eeked out a 5-4 decision in a thrilling final match, while Borgerhoff had much less trouble, compiling three pins on his way to the 134 lbs. championship. The final award went to Jon Wright, this year's Most Improved Freshman Wrestler. Other wrestlers having strong seasons included Jim Eckard, Rich Yancey, Chris Engel, and David Holleran. Both Holleran and Engel copped third place trophies at the Blind School Tourney, while Jim Eckard earned a fourth place trophy.

WRESTLING

With first year Coach David Ruenzel at the helm, the 7th and 8th grade grapplers have promise for the future. If they stick with the sport and work hard at it, they will undoubtedly develop into fine wrestlers at the varsity level.

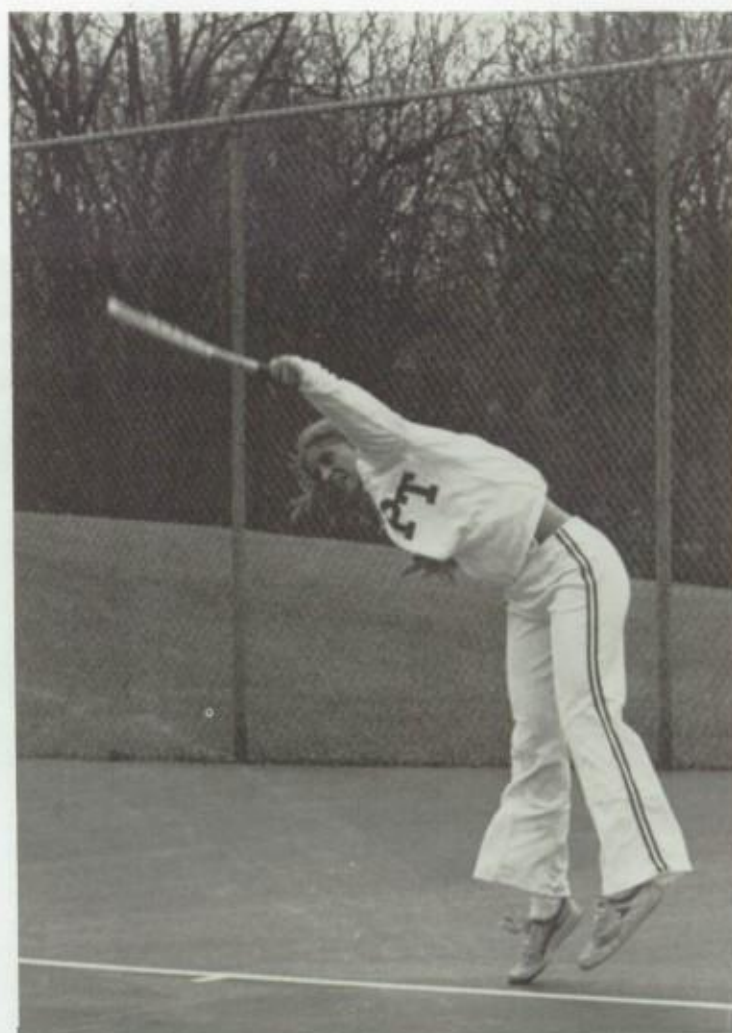

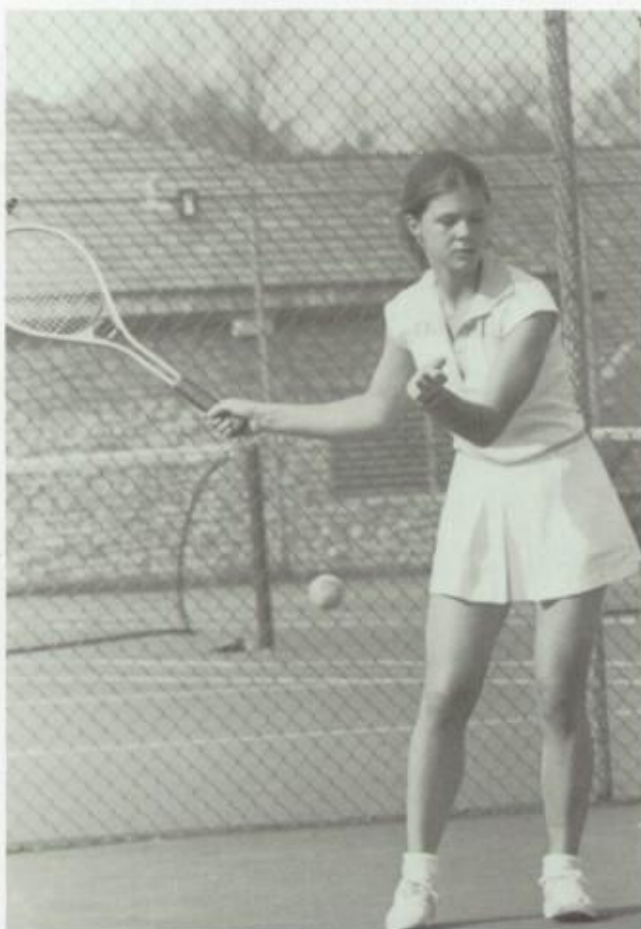

The squad completed its very short season with a win over Blind School and a loss to Deaf. The matmen made an impressive showing against both teams, but especially versus Blind, where five grapplers posted victories. Because almost all of these wrestlers are only seventh graders this year, they have high hopes for a longer and more fruitful season next year.

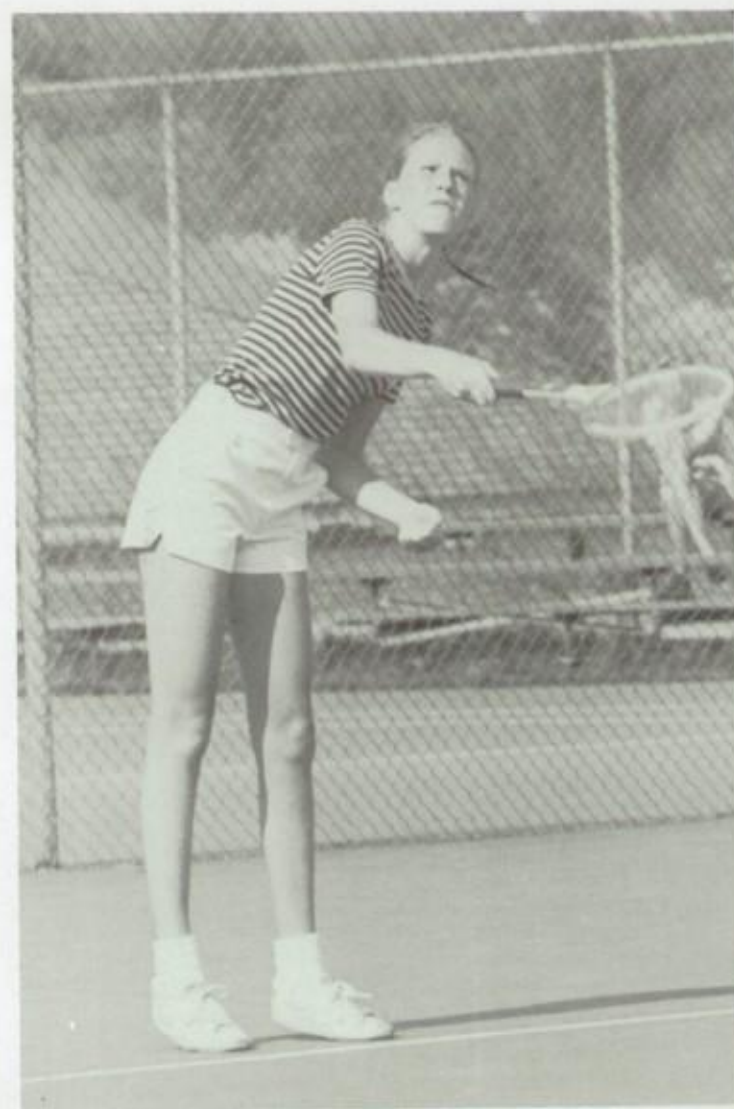

GIRLS' TENNIS

The spring 1980 Girls' Tennis Team had a respectable season record of 6-3. They finished 8th in the state at the close of the spring season.

Team member Cathy Lowe had a good season, defeating Brebeuf's Courtney Lord in Sectionals 7-5, 6-1. She was runner-up in both Regionals and State Championships to Courtney.

Team Members: Cathy Lowe, Jenny Pettinga, Kathleen Compton, Debbie Storer, Susie Sturman, Tilda Morris, Jenifer James, Tammie Spencer, Liz Elliott, Holly Hapak, Chris Jegen, Margie Wood, Lynn Shank, Margo Raikos.

Coach Larry Treadwell's Varsity Baseball Team finished off the 1980 spring season with a 7-12 record. Led by Captain Ben Anderson and seniors Steve Wrege, Frank Engel and Rollie Farthing, the Panthers, consisting of 8 juniors, 6 sophomores and 4 freshmen, had a surprisingly successful season.

Mike Williams won the Batting Award, after having consistently had the highest batting average on the team. Ben Anderson won the Lou Reichel Memorial Award and Steve Wrege won the Golden Glove Award. The Coaches' Award went to Brad Dunson.

The spring 1980 Boys' Golf Team was coached by Mr. Hawver, and senior John Michael, junior Bill Kalsbeck, sophomores Jeff Kimbell, Doug Stewart, J.B. Rogers, and freshmen Tony Kroot and Steve Preusse made up the team. The season was exciting and challenging, especially for John Michael, who won the Best Golfer Award and was a medalist in the Sectionals. Throughout the season the team defeated Northwest, Attucks, Lawrence Central, Shortridge, Westfield, Speedway, Ben Davis, Arlington and Marshall.

7-8 TRACK

The spring 1980 7th and 8th Grade Track Team had a good season with Richard Brake's record making time of 2:110 in the 880 yard dash, breaking a record previously held by Chatard, and Steve Wallace breaking the record for the 100 yard dash low hurdles in the CYO Finals. In the I.I.S.L. Conference, Eric Eschenfelder broke the 2400M record, Steve Wallace the 110M low hurdles record, and Richard Brake the 1600M record. In Field Events, Brad Lymburner broke the Class B high school record in the high jump. At the County Meet, Park Tudor was 11th out of 19 schools. David Brake was 11th and Mark Smith was 40th out of the 130 competing runners. The team record isn't complete without mention of the girls — Katie Lieber, Amanda Owen, and Michelle vonStein — who were new additions. Well accepted by the formerly all-boy team, they were the Class B Division Champs in the CYO Finals.

VARSITY TRACK

The spring 1980 Track and Field Squad had one of its most fruitful seasons, winning both the Delphi and Charlton Relays. The Panthers were very strong in the sprints and relays. Seniors Chip Ball, Jay Carney, Joe Williams and John Travis were top speedsters. Chip, Joe, and Jay combined with sensational sophomore Anthony McFarland to form very potent 4 x 100 and 4 x 400 meter relay teams. The 4 x 400 team won the Charlton Relays and the Delphi and Marshall-Howe Invationals. Top hurdlers were Scott Brown and Don Heck, two juniors who consistently came in first and second. In addition, juniors Steve Lewis, David Moore, and Bryce Taylor, along with sophomore Duane Willsey, all added depth in the shorter and middle distances. The longer distances were dominated by underclassmen. Freshman Kevin Quigley led the way, along with other frosh runners Jim Eckard, Dave Holleran, and Steve Pockrass, and sophomore Phil Jester. The field events were led by Chip Ball and his brother John. Chip was a strong performer in the long jump, while John advanced to Regionals in the pole vault. His top vault was an impressive 13' 6". Freshman Scott Nahmias, in addition to running sprints, also long-jumped. Discus throwers and shot putters included seniors David All, who was also a strong miler and half-miler, and Joe Williams. Jay Carney was voted to be Most Valuable Runner, while Kevin Quigley received the Coaches' Award for being most improved.

The money received from the Civic and Link Club bake sale during the fall of the year was presented to the Humane Society. Another highly successful project was the feeding and clothing of a family at Christmas. Students and faculty were asked to bring in clothes and/or contribute money. The family was very pleased. They also baked cookies for the blood drive here at school. The club had a Christmas party for inner city children where dolls that the members had dressed were given to the girls and the boys were given toy trucks. When the Humane Society was short of money they had a bake sale in conjunction with Link Club to raise money. In another money making project the girls sold a record amount of stationery.

The drama had open auditions, and was performed with mimed props and sets. The group also attended various community shows, and toured the new Indiana Repertory Theatre.

Jr. Barnstormers, the seventh and eighth grade drama club, presented A Midsummer Night's Dream in December. They attended Jr. Civic's version of the play in April. The following students were among those involved in the Park Tudor production: Ben Taylor, Steve Moriarty, Christine Beltz, Julie DeVoe, Steve Garstang, Anne Rogers, Katie Lieber, John Tonkinson, Darron Stewart, and David Kimbell.

Both groups are led by Miss Ulen and Miss Williams. Students can either audition for Barnstormers or work their way in. By working on crews for productions or being in plays members earn the points needed to stay in the club.

The fifty-seventh volume of The Apple Press reflected the uncertainty and change of the early Eighties. Led by the second-year staff of Editor G.B. Landrigan and Assistants Steve Norton and Bob Black, TAP continued the weekly format that they had begun the previous year. Thus TAP became the second Indianapolis high school weekly. Though sometimes considered inflammatory, TAP pushed for a more organized student council, a student "talking room", and varsity letters for girls' sports. Top stories of the year included the famous citrus scandal, the new graduation requirements, and the Reagan victory for president. Throughout the year, TAP was plagued by financial troubles—a sure sign of the times. But, just as sure as the April Fool's Day issue makes P-T forget such troubles, so it is certain that TAP will continue "even better next issue."

With Mr. Riordan as the new advisor, the Chronicle Staff members set about making their book an interesting and accurate record of the school year. However they had to proceed on their own after Mr. Riordan moved to Australia at Christmas. At this time Mr. Young appointed Mrs. Tonkinson advisor for the remainder of the year. This year's staff tried to make the book a good record by including more copy than in previous years. The 1981 Chronicle also has a somewhat different format and approximately 20 extra pages. Several of the extra pages are devoted to 1980 spring sports. Spring activities, because of yearbook deadlines, can never be included in a spring-delivery book of the same year.

The Speculum, Park Tudor's literary magazine, started off a good year by receiving first place from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for last year's Speculum. Park School, Tudor Hall, and Park Tudor have been publishing the literary magazine for over forty years. The Speculum traditionally contains many pieces of creative writing, poems, a few drawings, and an occasional photograph, all done by students.

With Breck Cummings as editor, Catherine Antley as business manager and G.B. Landrigan as assistant manager, the Speculum staff has had a very productive year. The judges for the Speculum Prose and Poetry Contest were Mr. Foxlow, Mrs. Oldham and Mr. Ruenzel. Entries for the annual contest were printed in the magazine along with the materials that were donated by the students.

Bob Black, Brad Cohen, Jack Hall and Steve Pockrass formed the team, with G.B. Landrigan, Steve Norton, David Pfeiffer, and Lynn Shank as alternates. Although this year's Brain Game team was defeated by Cathedral in the first round competition, the prospects for next year's team look excellent.

The officers for this year's Spanish Club were Becky Belford, president; Dinah Lee, vice-president; and Julie Blankenbaker, secretary-treasurer. The main event of the year was the annual Mexican Bazaar, which Breck Cummings was placed in charge of. The Mexican Bazaar Shop in Indianapolis that was so instrumental in past years, once again supplied the Spanish Club with the merchandise for their bazaar. The project, which took place the last week before Christmas vacation, was even more successful than in previous years.

The Spanish Club provides an opportunity for Upper School Spanish students to use their Spanish and to learn about Mexican and Spanish culture and customs.

The French Club had an eventful year. It started off with the decision to elect as rotating presidents, Elizabeth Elliott, Lynn Shank, Margo Raikos and Beth Anne Bowen. Each acted as president for two and one-half months and was in charge of the activities planned for those months. Liz arranged the initiation of new members which took place at the Magic Pan Restaurant. In the early fall, she also had a dinner at her house before the play Waiting for Godot, which was seen at the Broad Ripple Playhouse. Lynn organized the Christmas party for underprivileged children and a pitch-in dinner at school which was quite a success. Margo planned for a luncheon at La Patisserie in Carmel, and Beth Anne finished up the year with the Mardi Gras and spring picnic.

The Girls' Ensemble and Journeymen are popular and talented freshmen vocal groups. They are both classes taught by Mr. Williams and open to ninth grade boys and girls. The girls wear long pastel colored dresses when they perform and the boys wear matching red Park Tudor sweaters and dark slacks. The Girls' Ensemble sang in the school music concerts and at the Mothers' Association luncheon at Broadmoor Country Club. The Journeymen also performed at the concerts and enjoyed singing and swinging to many popular songs, usually leaving the audience in stitches. It is always a special treat to see both of these groups perform.

This year the Park Tudor Singers had an ideal situation of 31 boys and 33 girls. The class, which is taught by Mr. Williams, is offered to anyone in grades 10-12. The group sings at school music concerts and also at the graduation exercises. At the 1980 Holiday Concert they performed the Vivaldi Gloria. The work consisted of 12 pieces sung in Latin, and featured Pam Robertson, Beckie Smith, Sylvia Shortridge, Elaine Evans, and Beth Brueckmann as soloists. There were also instrumental accompanists.

The Madrigal Singers is a talented group of performers chosen from the Park-Tudor Singers by audition only. They gave concerts this year at the Morris Butler Home, the Art Museum, and several other places, as well as the school concerts and the Alumni Dinner. The members were responsible for their own outfits this year: long lavender dresses and black tuxes, and a jazz outfit in the spring. Their music ranges from serious renaissance literature to contemporary show tunes and is rehearsed not only during school hours, but also during evenings.

The small but enthusiastic Photography Club, led by Mrs. Sharpe, had a lot of fun this year learning how to develop negatives and print pictures. The darkroom, located in the Upper School building, is well equipped, and with previous experience and permission students may use it during free time. The club is open to anyone in the Upper School, and it hopes to spark even more interest in the future.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club is made up of those students who have earned a varsity letter in any of the various sports offered at Park Tudor. The club's main service project is providing Thanksgiving meals for about 20 needy fam-lies. This project is done in co-operation with a few other school clubs and the Citizens Forum of Indianapolis. The club also sponsors various school activities.

This year The Apple Core, the Middle School newspaper, was in its second year of publication. Coming out approximately every two weeks, it tried to keep the 7th and 8th graders informed on sports events and club and class activities. Mrs. Rogers served as the advisor and worked with John Tonkinson, editor, on getting the paper printed locally this year. In the past it had been mimeographed.

SCHOOL LIFE

Our activities are many and varied. They give us a chance to enjoy school life along the way.

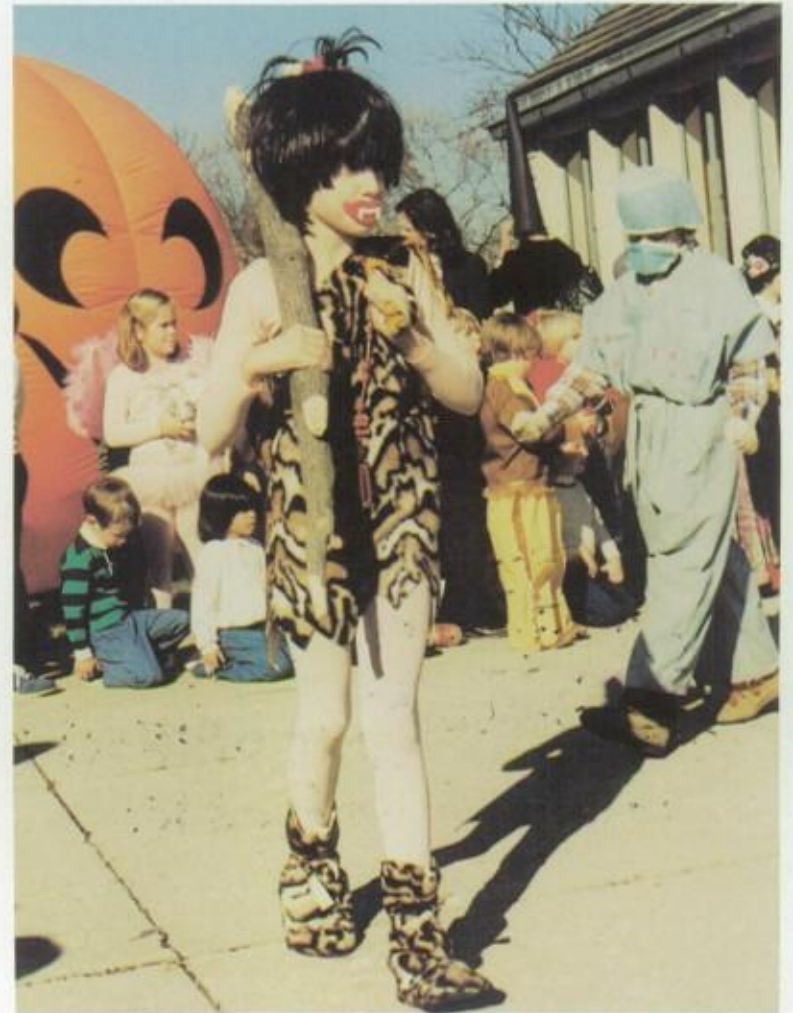

OCTOBER

Fourth grader Mimi Black is scarcely recognizable in her cave woman Halloween costume.

Lower School students used imagination and skill to carve pumpkins for the Pumpkin Contest.

Goofy comes to life in pumpkin form.

HOMECOMING

Jenifer James races through an opening to attempt a shot against the alums in the annual Varsity vs. Alumnae field hockey game.

Alumna and teacher Mrs. Emily Sturman uses her rusty field hockey skills to outwit Lisa Krieg.

Susie Sturman, Mary Stimming, Angi Frye, Scott Brown and Liz Elliott pose on 50's Day.

Junior and Senior Panthers "storm to victory" with their first place entry in the float contest, a new addition to this year's Homecoming activities.

Spirit Week was started off with the first annual Pancake Breakfast. Kim Bacon, Liz Elliott, Jack Hall and Cathy Lowe work at the grills ...

... while Dina Varano serves 'em up.

Mr. Dezelan and Mrs. Horine show their Homecoming enthusiasm.

Katie Lieber and Julie DeVoe, all spruced up on 50's Day.

Angie Frye advertises the food stand sponsored by the Jr. Class.

The annual car-smash gives Holly Hapak a chance to hack away at the hood.

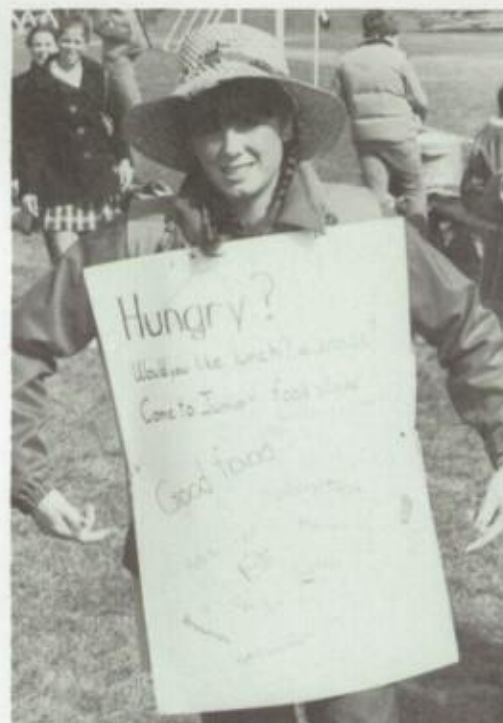

Jr. and Sr. Class float reps., Jennie Lieber and Jack Hall, accept first place from Mr. Young.

At the Pep Rally on the eve of Homecoming, Elaine Evans encourages everyone to "get a little bit rowdie."

David Belford, Anthony McFarland and Tammie Spencer invite everyone to massacre the dummy from LaLumiere.

Bozo the Clown? — Not quite — it's Mrs. Rogers showing her Panther Pride!

The Kivela team keeps the score of the Panther victory.

OKLAHOMA!

After two months of rehearsals, Park-Tudor's production of Oklahoma! on Nov. 7, 8, & 9, 1980, was a complete success. The triumphant presentation was due to the integrated efforts of the directors, orchestra, technical crew and cast. All worked untiringly to make sure that the show would go on.

Mr. Williams worked for hours with the leads and chorus striving for musical perfection. Though Oklahoma! was her first musical endeavor, Miss Ulen made an excellent director, building support with all who surrounded her.

Mrs. Appel and her technical crew made sure that all scenes flowed smoothly and were aesthetically pleasing. Lisa Selmier's light design complemented Lisa Krieg's set design, and Jennie Lieber's back drop along with the costumes designed by Cindy MacCollum completed the picture. Choreographers Mrs. Selmier and Nanci

Meyer proved their expertise in the exciting dance sequences.

Oklahoma! was very well cast. Aunt Eller (Mary Stimming), Laurey's (Kristie Throop) young-at-heart aunt enlightened both cast and audience in life's lessons. Curly (David Stewart) was the dashing cowboy with the terrific voice. Sylvia Shortridge portrayed Ado Annie who, to her flirty fullest, can't decide between Will Parker (Andy Edds) and Ali Hakim, the peddler (G.B. Landrigan). Don Heck did an excellent job as the gun totin', rabbit shooting Andrew Carnes. Jud (Chuck DeVoe), the evil-minded farmhand, added the elements of mystery and suspense. Though cast and crew worked long and hard hours, their efforts were well rewarded by sell-outs at all three performances.

"I wouldn't tell you a-tall."

"What'd I want 'a marry you fer?"

"Who the hell are you?"

"I thought they was jist bedrooms!"

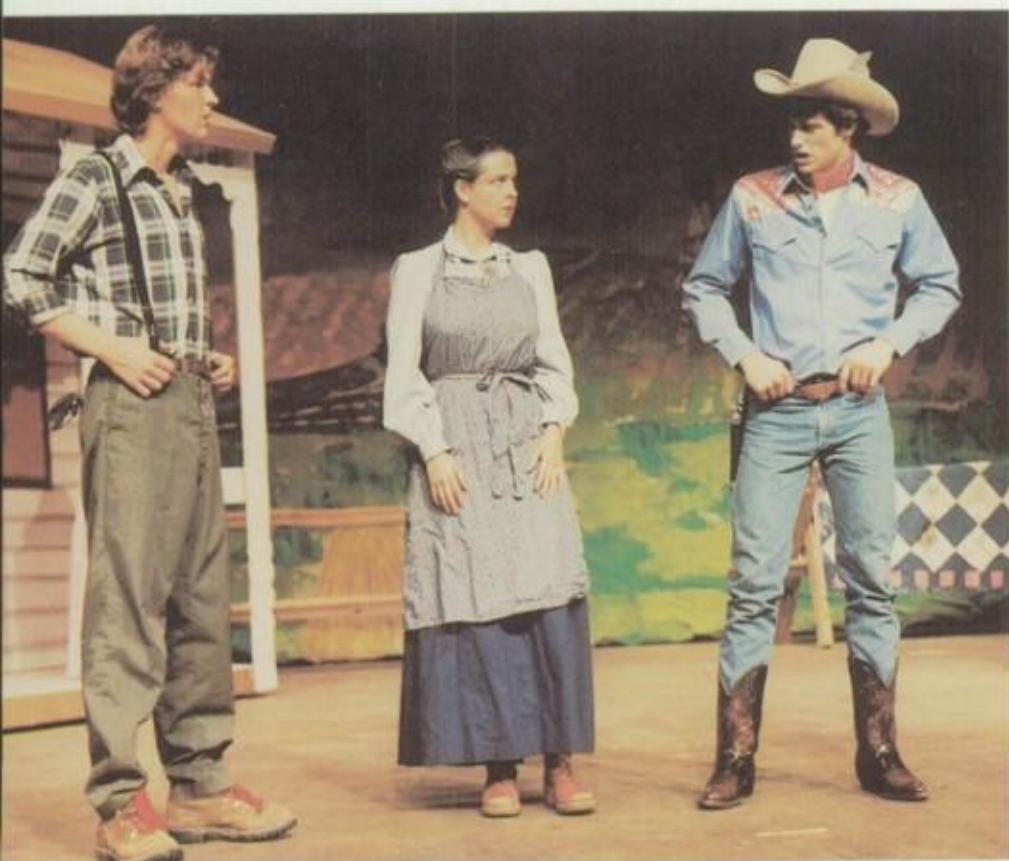

"We gotta start a revolution!"

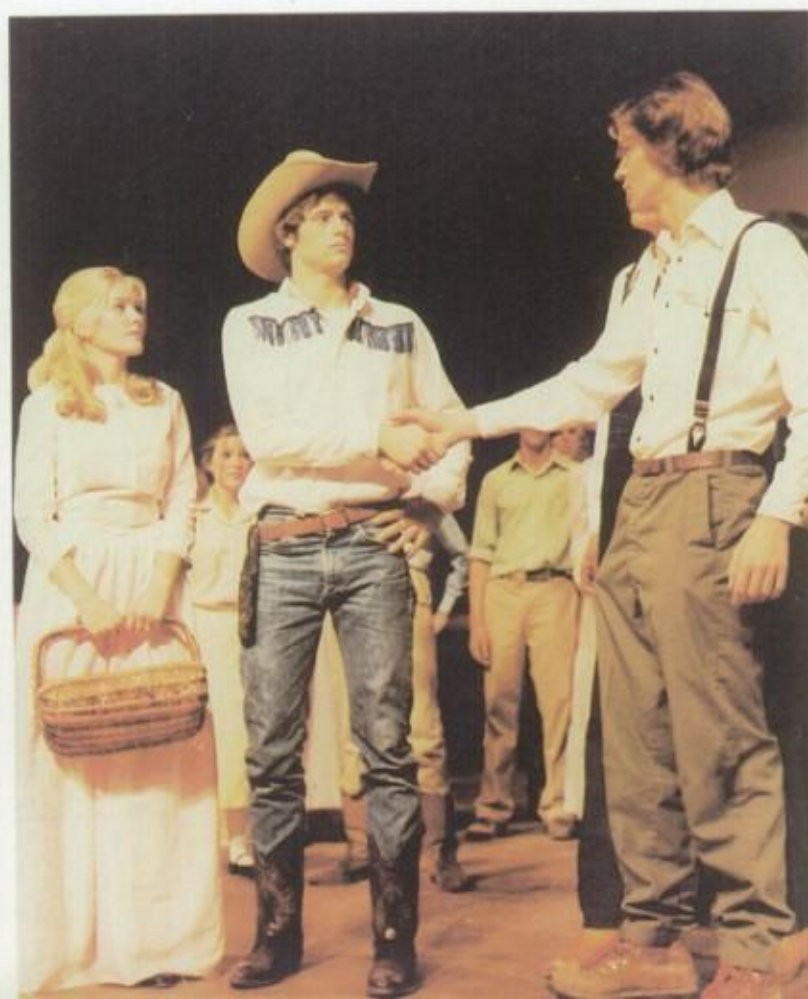

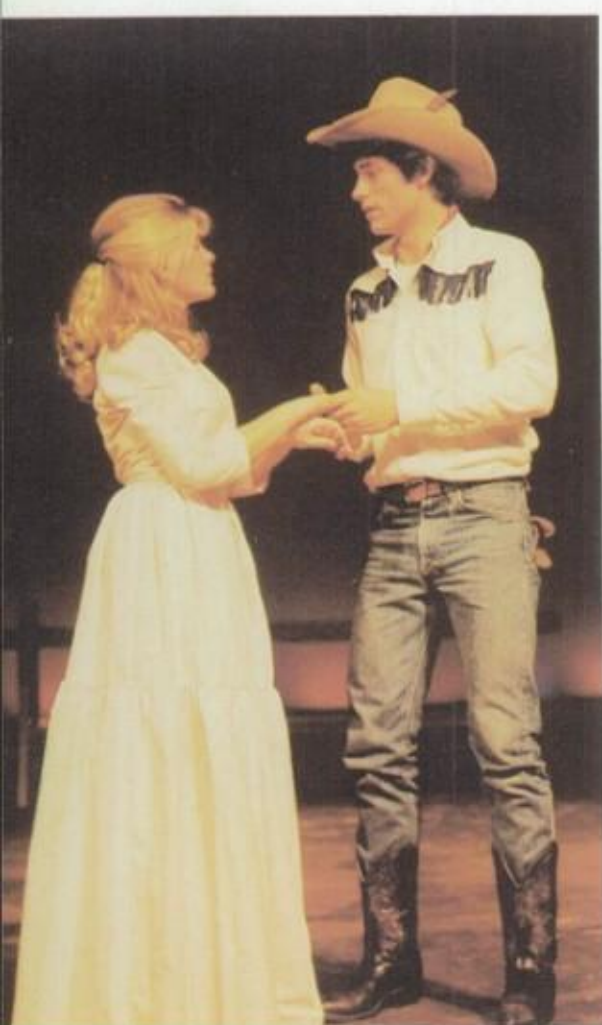

"I shore did see some things I never see before!"

"You're taking Laurey to the Box-Social?"

"... 7 stories high! About as fer as a building oughta grow."

"C'mon, cowman — shake the farmer's hand."

"With me it's all er nuthin', Ado."

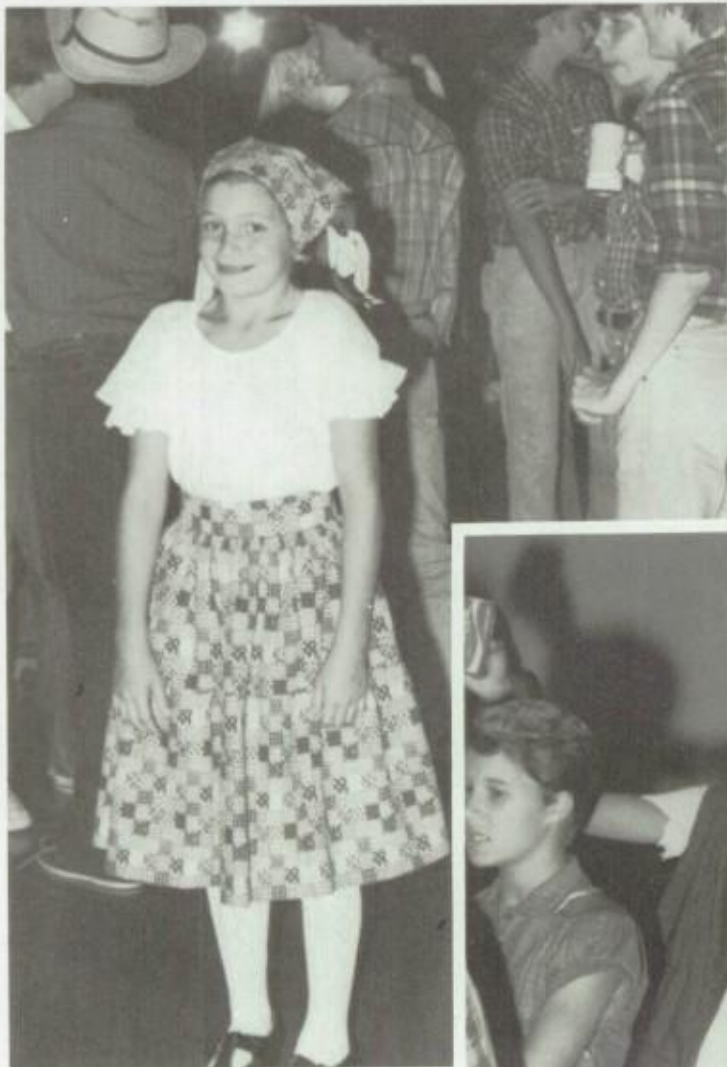

"I cain't say NO!"

"I'd like to say a word for the cowboy."

"Sing it, Andrew!"

Favorite activities this year with the Middle School were the square dances. At the fall square dance prizes were awarded for boys and girls with the best costumes. Karen Burt and Andy Brown won the prizes for the 7th grade. Eighth grade winners were Amanda Owen, Katie Lieber, Suzie Storer, Catherine LaCrosse, John Gehrt, and Brian King.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

Barnstormers chose You Can't Take It With You, the classic comedy by Kaufman and Hart, for their 1980 spring production. The story concerns the romance between Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby, and the problems that occur when Tony's snobby, high society family arrives for dinner with Alice's eccentric, off-the-wall relatives — on the wrong night! Starring were Mary Stimming and Steve Wrege as Alice and Tony, Matt Bookwalter as Alice's philosophizing grandpa, and Tricia Caress as Penny, Alice's bubbly, silly mother.

The play met with great success, both on our stage and elsewhere. At the International Thespian Conference held last spring in Muncie, Indiana, Steve and Mary took first place for a scene they presented, as did Dori Eskenazi for her set design.

1980 JUNIOR PROM

A warm, gorgeous April evening was the setting for the 1980 Junior Prom, held at the Athletic Club. The band, Freeze n' Fire, played for the unusually large turnout of students. An hors d'oeuvre party, which was a new idea, preceded the dance. The party was held at the home of Sylvia Shortridge, where Mr. High was available to take pictures of the couples. A pitch-in breakfast at the home of Chuck DeVoe followed the evening of entertainment.

Boys' State and Girls' State are programs, sponsored by the American Legion, which are available each summer to high school juniors throughout the United States. In Indiana each program is held for one week at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. These are honorary programs for boys and girls chosen for their interest in politics and leadership, and who possess outgoing characters. G.B. Landrigan was chosen for Boys' State for 1980 to represent Park Tudor School among nine-hundred and fifty boys from all over Indiana. Unfortunately, Park Tudor was not represented at Girls' State in 1980.

Boys' State is designed for the students to experience the operation of American government. They learn about how it is run, its current problems, and its prospects for the future. The students campaign for political positions to run a model government. G.B. was elected to the Senate.

SUMMER STUDIES

The I.U. Honors Program gives Indiana high school juniors studying French, German, or Spanish the opportunity to spend the summer in either France, Germany or Mexico. Thirty students are picked for each language. The students stay with a host family while attending classes in literature, grammar, and the art of conversation. The afternoons and weekends are devoted to field trips and cultural studies. Appropriately enough, the strictest rule in the program is that absolutely no English is to be spoken throughout the stay.

The selection process began the fall of 1979 when eight Park Tudor students entered the program by taking written tests over grammar and comprehension. After an all-inclusive questionnaire and a personal interview, two of the original eight who entered, Lynn Shank and Glenn Carter, were finally chosen.

Glenn stayed in San Luis Potosi, Mexico, with the Del Muro family and their four teenage children. He found that although many Mexican customs are similar to those of the United States, the educational system, meal times, and foods are very different. Glenn commented that the experience greatly improved his speaking fluency.

Lynn stayed with the Le Mee family and their two teenage children in St. Brieuc, France. She found the French people very down to earth and friendly, as was seen in the custom of Brittany where friends kiss one another twice on both sides of the face upon meeting or parting.

Mr. Young signs the diplomas that, while closing one door, will be the key to countless others.

The first graduation after the merger of Park School and Tudor Hall was held at Second Presbyterian Church, 7700 North Meridian, in 1971. Graduation exercises have been held there ever since. This year's senior class includes some of the first students who started kindergarten at Park Tudor after the merger of the two schools.

Compliments of a Friend

*Congratulations to Sara, a very lovely and patient girl, who sincerely gave an uncountable number of thoughtful and creative hours to the 1981
Chronicle to be fair to all the students at Park Tudor.
Your experience will be appreciated and worth more and more as time passes.*
